- Any US Citizen

MAJOR DUTIES:

A "Clinician-Educator" specialist will spend a substantial portion of his/her time in direct patient care or in the supervision of trainees in either inpatient or outpatient settings, or both. In addition to the role as clinician, the Clinician-Educator is expected to have either major administrative responsibilities for an educational or clinical program or a record of continuous productivity in research as documented by publications in peer-reviewed journals. The incumbent is assigned as a Clinician-Educator in the Hospital & Specialty Care Program of the Section of Gastroenterology. The position includes a major role as the director of the gastroenterology consult team at least three and up to five months a year. The incumbent will supervise the Endoscopy clinic at least one four-hour clinic per week, and participate in up to three Endoscopy clinics per week. The incumbent will also see patients assigned for outpatient gastroenterology/hepatology practice in, at least, one four-hour clinic each week, with an additional 25% of time for indirect activities of patient care as dictation, returning telephone calls, reviewing and signing dictated notes, reviewing and renewing prescriptions, and reviewing laboratory and imaging data for both outpatient and Endoscopy clinics. The incumbent will be expected to rotate the responsibility for night and weekend coverage with the other members of the division. The incumbent may be asked to precept medical residents and GI fellows in the gastroenterology clinics in place of some inpatient attending. The incumbent may be assigned administrative or managerial responsibilities through participation in clinical and educational administrative committees, chaining committees, task groups or special projects and quality management/quality of care responsibilities.

THIS POSITION IS IN THE BARGAINING UNIT
